PUTS MISSOURI CORN CROP AT 175,000,000 BUSHELS.

State Secretary of Agriculture Says Average Condition Is 77, an Improvement of Two Points.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Columbia, Mo., Oct. 7-Reports received at Columbia, by the State Board of Agriculture, show that the weather condi-tions of September were very satisfacfor growing crops and for preparing the land for sowing wheat. Fall pastures are generally in excellent condition, and live stock, with a few excepions, are doing well. The monthly report of George B. Ellis, secretary of the State of George B. Ellis, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, says:

The rains in Sentember have pushed the maturing of the corn crop, and while on the last day of Aur. only 70 per cent of the crop had reached the ronarting ear state, now, Sept.
30. the date for mailing our reports, 75 per cent of the entire grou is beyond any danger from killing frosts, and in two weeks more practically the whole crop will be safe.
The average condition of the crop for the whole State is 71, which is an improvement of 2 points during the month, and is only slightly below the ten-year average. The greatest improvement is noted in the highest condicent improvement is noted in the highest condicent improvement is noted in the sushest condicent improvement is noted in the such condicent improvement in the southeast, where the senson all the way through has been most favorable. On all well-drained soils there is generally a mood crop, while on the wet soils the crop is renerally poor.

This varied condition, even in the same neighborhood, makes it very difficult to estimate accurately, at this time, the probable rield. However, the present average condition indicates an average yield per acre a little below the ten-year averages. The arreage this year including what was abandoned on account of wet weather and floods, is $451,000, or a decrease from last year of nearly 3 per cent.

If there is no killing frost before the lith of Get, there should be a total product for the State of approximately 175,000,000 but.

If there is no killing frost before the lith of Oct there should be a total product for the State of approximately 175,090,000 but, which will be about five-sixths of the total State product for last year.

It is estimated that is per cent of the entire crop will be cut for fodder, and if there is fair weather during the present month, a most excellent crop of fodder will be haryested. Seven per cent of the last year's corn remains in the farmers hands. WHEAT SOWING PROGRESSES. The furners are making good progress with wheat sowing, although a few of our correspondents state that it is too wet for seeding; while in a few localities it is too dry to put the ground in the best condition. The estimated acreage that will be sown this year is 5 per cent less than that sown last year, but will be practically the same as the acreage that was harvested this year, there having been about 5 per cent of last year's seeding not harvested on account of rust and insects. Fifty-three per cent of the crop had been seeded fleptember 50, as compared with 55 per cent of the crop had been seeded fleptember 50, as compared with 55 per cent of the crop sown on the same date last year. The average condition of the crop that has been sown for the whole State is 52, which is considered a very satisfactory condition for this time of year.

A gross loss from rust last year is no doubt the cause for the reduced acreage. Upon the other hand, the high price of the wheat at the present time has caused some farmers to increase their acreage.

The use of commercial fertilizers has increase in the State by 2 per cent over the amount used last year. The greatest increase is in the northeast and central sections, where it is 5 per cent above the amount used on the previous crop. In the southwest and southeast sections there is a sight decrease in the amount of fertilizers used—caused, no doubt, largely by the wet weather of the last two statems.

There will be very few apples for shipment from any part of the State. The average number for the whole State for export, from the counties where grown, is only 5 per cent of the amount exported last year. The southeast section there is an increase of 14 per cent of the State, will export only 50 per cent of what was shipped last year.

Cotton maintains a satisfactory condition, having decined only slightly during the month. The present average condition for the State is 51.
